—Oil and gas leases, best form, for sale at this office.

—The real picnic season has just begun, when all the vegetables, including roasting ears, are just right.

—The second annual picnic of the marionville Buckwheat Club will be held in that place on Thursday, Aug. 20.

—Shoes, hats, underwear, negligee shirts and everything else for the hot days yet to come at big reductions. Hopkins.

—The Ladies Missionary Society will conduct the prayer meeting at the Presbyterian church tomorrow, Thursday, evening.

—If you don't take advantage of Hopkins' big reduction sale it will be your own fault if you have the higher prices to pay next season.

—For prospective teachers Edinboro Normal is one of the best training schools. Fall term opens September 8th, 1908. Catalogue free. John F. Bigler, Principal.

—The Franklin News thinks it is right that the auto should have a large place in any future war; it kills and wounds more men than any other machine now in use.

—Blackberries of a good quality are an occasional sight in our markets these days. The berries are said to be quite abundant and are selling readily at fair prices.

—Alderman Randall had a little nip taken off the end of the third finger of his right hand by getting too familiar with the mowing machine at his farm one day last week.

—Robert Osten, son of Nathan Osten, of Stewart Run, had his right knee painfully injured one day last week by being caught by a hayfork while unloading hay in the barn.

—The Monarch Clothing Co.'s annual summer clearance sale begins this week and offers exceptional big opportunities to get high class summer wear for very little money.

—These are the "dog days," when rattlesnakes are supposed to be blind, and when the small boy gets covered with boils if he goes swimming oftener than 'stee ten times a day.

—Whether you will need them this season or not it will pay you to lay in a supply of warm weather wearables for next year. The reductions in prices are marvelous at Hopkins' store.

—The twentieth century is strenuous, complex and democratic. One-third of the young men of this age are not wanted because of their habits; but trained, loyal, cheerful, sober-minded young men are in demand.

...the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Baumgardner, fell quite a distance from an apple tree, at his home Saturday forenoon. He alighted on his back, but aside from being stiffened up some, was not seriously injured.

—According to the Derrick's oil report for July the regions producing high grade or Pennsylvania oil completed 647 wells during the month; the new production amounted to 4,426 barrels, and there were 119 dry holes and 24 gas wells.

—Following is the list of letters lying unclaimed for in the Tionesta, Pa., post-office for week ending Aug. 5, 1908: Mr. J. Albert Grimm, Mr. C. F. Fox, Mr. Ted Biehl (card), Mrs. Sarah E. Sly (card), D. S. Knox, P. M.

—The hay crop, which was fully up to the average in these parts, has all been harvested. Oats will be next on the list and the yield promises well. It's too early for predictions on the buckwheat crop but thus far it is showing up well.

—Once in a while there is a talkative criminal with no special education, who, with the same attention to plot and circumstance in his imaginative stories, would have been made famous as a novelist, significantly observes the Franklin News.

—Uncle Tom's Cabin will exhibit under tent in Tionesta, this Wednesday evening Aug. 5th. The company carries 31 people, 34 horses, mounted brassband of 12 pieces, and all necessary paraphernalia for the proper production of this wonderful play. Go and see it.

—Mrs. J. N. Rathfon of Lickingville is at the Warren hospital where today she will undergo a serious operation. Mrs. Rathfon has been in poor health for some time, and many friends in this community will hope for a successful outcome and beneficial results from this ordeal.

—A stranger was discovered prowling about the front door of Killmer Bros.' store late last Friday night, by George Henshaw. He disappeared back of the store when Mr. Henshaw approached him. An investigation showed that nothing had been disturbed about the place.

—An exchange says: "Ladies are warned to beware of the telephone neck." It is due to long standing at the telephone with the receiver at the left ear, causing an involuntary leaning of the head to one side. It is more noticeable with those living on party lines, and surgeons declare the result is liable to be a crooked necked generation in the near future.

—The Porkey Oil, Gas and Mineral Co., constituted mostly of Warren men, expect to drill in their fourth gas well Tuesday and several of the magnates will be on the scene. It is located only 650 feet from Collins' 7,000,000 gusher and on a direct line with other wells drilled by the company. The well is expected to make a great showing.—Warren Mirror.

—If you have not already enrolled for the Fall Term and are interested in getting a first class business education at a first class school, then write The Hoff Business College, Warren, Pa. This is the old, reliable, established, the well known school of Northwestern Pennsylvania. We can help you. Call or write, L. J. Holmes and L. J. Hoff, Proprietors.

—The Lock Haven State Normal School sent out a large class of young men and women at its last commencement. Their excellent training thoroughly equipped them for the position of teachers and it is gratifying to know that they were all fortunate in securing schools. Its patronage during the year just closed exceeded any previous year. Address the Principal for illustrated catalogue.

—Mrs. Matt McIntyre, of Harmony township, was bitten by a rattlesnake about a week ago. We are without particulars except that she was picking berries and the snake bit her on the leg just as she had stepped over a fence. Serious results were averted by applying local remedies, the first of which was the raw flesh of a chicken, and Mrs. McIntyre was all right at last accounts.

—A first class training school is also an excellent fitting school for life. The Lock Haven State Normal School meets these requirements and its large patronage is the best proof of the fact. It has a fine faculty made up of graduates of the best training schools and colleges in the United States and foreign countries. The expenses are moderate and its home influences are particularly attractive. Its location is unsurpassed in this state and its reputation equals the best anywhere. Address the Principal for illustrated catalogue.

—Congestive lymphangitis is the name of a new disease peculiar to horses which has recently been imported into this country from Europe. The disease is almost universally fatal, and horses affected by it have to be killed in order to prevent spreading by infection as it is very contagious. It was first discovered among horses in Butler county, and physicians and veterinarians claim this to be the first appearance of the dreaded disease in the United States. Traces of it have been found in Butler, Venango, Lawrence, Mercer, Crawford and Jefferson counties.

—We notice that the death was recorded in one of our exchanges during the past week of a subscriber who lifted the Democrat out of a postoffice in this county for several years, and when the new postal law went into effect last spring, and we sent this subscriber a request to settle for several years subscription due, we received the cheering intelligence that this person had never subscribed for the Democrat, and therefore did not owe us anything. We hope that this subscriber will have clear sailing at the other end of the line, but we have our doubts about it.—Smethport Democrat.

—Emile Kluck, aged 22 years, of Oil City, was drowned Monday afternoon in the river at Eagle Rock, where he was camping with a party of friends. The young man could not swim and was wading in shallow water and stepped into deep water where the shallow beach broke off abruptly. Before companions could reach him he went down for the last time. His body was recovered.

—The last quarterly meeting for this conference year will be held in the M. E. church in Tionesta, Friday and Sunday, August 7th and 9th. The District Superintendent, Rev. D. A. Platt, will preach Friday evening at 8 o'clock, and hold the quarterly conference. Sunday at 10 a. m. Love Feast, followed by the sermon and Holy Communion. The District Superintendent will preach Sunday evening at 7:45.

—Last Wednesday morning, just after he had finished cutting his hay and was putting his mowing machine in the barn, F. M. Hoovler of Stewart Run got the first finger of his left hand caught and crushed in the cogs of the machine. He came to town where Dr. Dunn found it necessary to amputate the finger between the first and second joint. It makes a very sore hand but Francis isn't losing any time from his work.

—The approach of the mushroom season brings its usual crop of accounts of people who have reached the threshold of death through eating toad-stools in mistake for the real thing. Persons not entirely familiar with the edible variety of this toothsome fungi should religiously desist from gathering them, but it's not likely they will, and the newspaper man will continue to get a juicy news item in our conference, now and then.

—We were misinformed when we stated last week that Lowe & Co.'s well on the Kirk tract, Hickory township, had been abandoned by the contractor, Chas. Carahan, on account of a bit being lost in the hole. It was thought the well would have to be abandoned but on making one last try for it the bit was recovered. The well was finished last Friday and was dry. A location has been made for another well and work will begin at once.

—Some big hailstones fell in the neighborhood of the Francis Oil company's operations, near Marienville recently, according to the Express. Roofs were broken in and destroyed on most of the dwellings, barns and outbuildings. "Hail 2 inches by 1 1/2 and nearly an inch thick is said to have come down in torrents for a few minutes. Fortunately none of the employees were caught out as life would have been in imminent danger."

—At the meeting of the Jefferson County Gas Company held Monday evening last it was decided to go ahead with the project of laying a six inch gas line from the property of the company into Warren. The company controls a large gas production, and will pipe the gas to the East Side factories. This insures gas for fuel to the factories and will relieve the other companies from the burden of the factories, which at times in winters past have severely taxed their mains. Private consumers will be glad to hear of any means that will relieve a possible low pressure of gas on cold days.—Warren Times.

—Emory Witherell, who is with the crew that is engaged in picking up the Wheeler & Dusenbury timber along the Allegheny, brings us a natural curiosity which he found on his trip at the mouth of Hickory creek. It consists of a fossilized river "hard-head," in which is a round hole or crevice that has the appearance of having been dug out with some sharp instrument, and which would answer quite handily for an ink well. Emory thinks it might have been used as such by the old Indian chief Cornplanter, the only missing evidence to confirm such a theory being the question as to whether that well remembered old guy ever had use for such a commodity.

—A crew of men with N. P. Wheeler Jr. as their captain are engaged in an effort to pick up the logs which escaped from the Wheeler & Dusenbury pond at Endeavor in the washout of July 3d, and they had reached here last Saturday where they found a quantity of the logs lodged on the piers of the river bridge. They have a tent and complete cooking outfit so that they can put up anywhere for a day or two very conveniently, and live quite comfortably while they have such an artistic chef as Emory Witherell to provide the provender. While the logs are badly scattered and lodged in almost inconceivable places the men are getting enough gathered into the eddies to pay the company for the time and labor expended in picking them up. The Grand Lumber Co., at Eagle Rock, will saw the logs found above their plant.

—The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has dismissed the petition recently made to have a new trial granted Michael Holka, the Austrian under sentence to hang in the Franklin jail August 18 for the murder of Police Captain James Meehan. Sheriff Williams, of Venango county, the Blizzard says, received a scaffold from the Commissioners of Erie County two days prior to the date fixed for the execution of Holka and James Strail, July 14. As both the condemned men were granted a reprieve the scaffold was stored away in the attic of the jail. It will be used in the execution of Holka and erected in the jail at the bottom of the stairway leading to the upper row of cells. This scaffold has seen service at a number of executions and is the one borrowed by Sheriff Scott for the execution at Meadville several years ago of Frank Major, the murderer of Chief of Police McGrath, of Titusville.

—A very pleasant and instructive Mothers' Meeting was held in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday evening. It was conducted by the superintendent of this department of work, who was most ably assisted by the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. The aim of this department of work is to get into sympathetic touch with the mothers of young families, upon whom rests the responsibility of training in temperance lines, as well as in every line for the upbuilding of noble character the precious children whom God has placed in their care. The articles read and discussed were "An Appeal to Mothers," "Why There Was a Need of a Y," "The New Century for Mothers," "Training Daughters Never to be Unwomanly," and "The Return of the Prodigal." All of these were helpful and instructive. At the close of the meeting light refreshments were served and all enjoyed a very pleasant social time. PASSES SUPP.

She reports Miss Edna in the enjoyment of almost perfect health, and grown so stout and robust that her friends in the east would scarcely recognize her, all of which is pleasing news to them.

—Joseph Weaver, who is playing third base for the Fredonia (N. Y.) base ball team and making good on the job, came home Monday for a few days' visit with his parents. He will return today. The Fredonia team will play at Chautauqua next Wednesday, the date of the excursion from here, and our people will have a chance to see Weaver and Haslet, the local boys, in the game.

—Word comes to eastern friends from the Pacific coast that J. E. Wheeler, of Portland, Oregon, formerly of Endeavor, is the father of a bouncing big boy who arrived at his domicile a day or two ago. "Jack" left a host of friends in these parts when he migrated to the west, and all of them will wish nothing better for the youngster than that he shall grow to be as good a man as his pap.

—Mrs. Ralph E. Haines gave a Kensington Friday afternoon at her home on West Sixth street, as a compliment to her guest, Miss Blanche Mae Pease, of Tionesta, Pa. The guests were special friends of the hostess and the afternoon was pleasantly spent chatting and sewing. The afternoon ended with a luncheon, with dainties cooked by the hostess. Mrs. Haines had provided a delightful little musical program for the entertainment of her guests and proved a charming hostess. The guests were: Messdames J. O. Fryer, Chas. O. Bechtol, D. E. Beach, J. Hyson Miller, E. L. Weesner, O. M. Flinn, C. E. Harvey, Walter W. Ford, H. L. Erlwine, Chas. Thompson, Harry Goldthwaite, Taylor, S. F. Jones, Harry Anderson, Weesner and the Misses Ada and Nellie Wright, Ethel Case, Donna Phillips and Lena Wall, and the following out of town guests, Miss Anderson of Chicago, Miss Bernice Pierson of Leslie, Mich., and Mrs. Frank Masquette of New Orleans.—Marion (Indiana) Daily Leader.

Double Accident on Log Train.

Monday forenoon Charles and Leslie Deshrer, brothers residing at Mayburg, and both married, were severely hurt while carrying logs to the lumber mill at Mayburg. Charles is the engineer of the train and Leslie is the conductor. The train had gone down to Bear creek and at least one car had been loaded, and the two men were out attending to the switching while the fireman was attending the engine. The method of loading the cars is to put on a partial load, building it wider at the top and in a sort of trough-like shape; over these then the binder chains are secured and more logs are rolled upon the top of the load and act as a "binder" to the chains. The top logs are not fastened or bound. In coming down a short grade one of these loose logs rolled off and struck Charles Deshrer knocking him down. His brother jumped to his relief instantly, and at that moment a second log rolled off and caught Leslie's leg between the rail and the end of the log, crushing the foot and ankle into a pulp, making his injuries much worse than those of his brother Charles, whose hurts consist of a badly bruised shoulder and limbs, but who sustained no bone fractures.

Both men were taken to Kellettsville on the engine and given temporary relief and afterward were taken to their homes at Mayburg. Charles was getting along well at last accounts under the care of Drs. Detar and Serrill, who fear, however, that Leslie's injuries are of such a nature that amputation of the leg above the ankle is the only alternative.

Argument Court.

In the absence of President Judge W. M. Lindsley, Associate Judges F. X. Kreidler and P. C. Hill presided over the court's session of argument court last Thursday forenoon, after which the court took a recess until Thursday, August 20, at eleven o'clock a. m. The most important business transacted at this session was the appointment of viewers to locate roads and bridges in Hickory and Harmony townships, which were destroyed by the great flood of July 3d.

On petition signed by the supervisors and citizens of Hickory township, F. F. Whittekin, Orion Siggins and C. A. Randall were appointed artist and viewers to vacate and supply a road up Little Hickory creek, starting at the Little Hickory bridge, below the narrows, and running to road on Albaugh hill, 500 feet westerly from the Albaugh school house.

On petition signed by the supervisors and citizens of Harmony township, J. F. Proper, W. P. Crouch and Wm. Cropp were appointed artist and viewers to vacate and supply a road up Siggins run, beginning at a point opposite the Siggins cemetery and ending on said road on the line between E. B. Head and M. W. Tucker, a distance of about one mile.

On petition D. W. Clark, G. W. Sawyer and W. H. Stiles were appointed artist and viewers to view and locate a bridge crossing West Hickory creek, on the road leading to Dawson station. A span of 60 feet and new abutments will be required. The petition sets forth that on account of the destruction of this and other bridges and roads the expense is more than Harmony township can bear. It is the intention to ask help from the county in the construction of this bridge.

On a petition signed by citizens of Tionesta township, T. D. Collins, W. H. Harrison and Herman Blum were appointed artist and viewers to vacate and supply a road from the foot of Noble hill to the Green township line, on the road leading to Nebraska. The present road is impassable in many places during high water and it is proposed to move it to higher ground.

A subpoena in divorce was granted in the case of Pearl M. Mohney vs. David Mohney.

A motion was granted to file a supplemental affidavit of defense in the case of Michael Toomey vs. A. R. Meehling, Leo Braden and S. R. Crossman.

In the divorce case of F. B. Robbins vs. Harriet Robbins, a rule to show cause was granted on a motion for counsel fees and alimony.
